For German Providers

iMOVE prepares German training providers for international activities and facilitates their entry into international markets.

iMOVE's German-language website is an extensive source of information for German training providers. It includes news from international vocational training and continuing education markets, information on relevant events, a B2B marketplace, market information and market studies.

Corresponding to the international portal, German training providers find relevant information under various online categories. Part of our service is the iMOVE Provider Database.

All current information and announcements are distributed regularly through the German iMOVE Newsletter.

Provider Database Intention

Whether you are looking for consulting services, training courses or suitable partners, making the right choice is crucial to the success of your activities. We provide sound information concerning existing opportunities.

As a neutral and independent government body, iMOVE helps you identify the right German partner to meet your demands.

The internet is our vital tool to gather and provide information as well as to foster communication. The iMOVE Provider Database always gives you up-to-date information about concrete possibilities of cooperation with German training providers.
